A father who could not wait any longer

I often think back to the day Sue, and I were baptised. There was an urgency in our hearts and the decision was predicated on two factors: 1. Our desire to have past sin remitted or forgiven by God and 2. That we desired to live a life that we had the indwelling Holy Spirit as we knew that without God's prominent and imminent presence in our lives, we would not be able to live that Christian life, He desires.

I'm reminded of a delightful story of a devoted father who awoke on that lazy Saturday morning surrounded by his family. His beautiful wife and young children were all lounging in the bed that morning, laughing and giggling and talking about the day ahead. But the father was thinking. Thinking deeply. He'd been putting something off for a long time. Too long.

He picked up the phone and called the preacher where he had attended with his wife for many years. His message was short but clear, "I've been laying in the bed with my family this morning, and I do not want them to be somewhere in eternity where I'm not with them. I need to meet you today and get baptized right away." He was baptized for the forgiveness of his sins that morning and lived the life of a Christian with and before his family. What about you? Do you have family and friends who are going to be somewhere in eternity where you are not with them? How about making that right today? Don't wait any longer (Acts 22:16)!

We need to act when we feel the urging and conviction of the Holy Spirit in our lives.

Why and what are you waiting for?

Have an urgent week. Love in Christ

Dereck
